NAVAL SITE DECISION PUT OVER AGAIN

Reports of the General Navy Board Favors Local Location; Offer of 5000 Acres of Land Is Held Essential

Final Decision of Committee Is Expected This Week—Hundred Million Must Be Appropriated for Base

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The joint committee on naval affairs today adjourned after reaching a decision on a site at San Francisco for the Pacific fleet.

The committee will meet again Wednesday of next week and in the meantime further data on the question will be secured from the navy department.

Emphatic denial that Alameda or any other site has yet been selected for a great naval base for the Pacific fleet at San Francisco was made today by Representative Fred E. Britten, Illinois. Britten is chairman of the house committee of the joint senate and house committee of the joint committee on naval affairs.

He said that the committee is selecting the site for the Pacific fleet base at San Francisco and other naval bases along the Pacific coast.

He said he hoped a decision would be reached at the meeting of the committee today.

Two votes have been taken on a site for the base by the committee. Britten said "I know of no majority vote on the part of the members of the committee for any particular site."

On the other hand a selection of a site for the base is held by the committee. Among the members are strong supporters with strong arguments for each of the three sites under consideration—Alameda, Hunter's Point and Mare Island.

Representatives of the various agencies which have been behind the determined campaign to bring about the selection of Alameda as the site for the proposed Pacific Coast navy base expressed the belief today that their fight is nearer a successful termination following the report of Washington.

The navy board's decision was misinterpreted to mean that Alameda definitely has been selected and resulted in premature and misleading publicity being accorded the recommendation. The joint congressional committee which inspected the various sites last week by January 11, will submit its findings to Congress as the next step in the final selection of this coast's proposed navy base site. This committee was in session today at Washington.

THE SPIRIT OF ENTHUSIASM AND optimism manifested in all quarters today is based upon the generally accepted belief that both Congress and its navy base site committee will be guided by the recommendation of the navy board which is composed of experts and which was created to aid the committee in considering technical details and the fact that the board was not to recommend Alameda because of the vast acreage which is available.

The fact that Alameda is offering the government, without cost, approximately 5000 acres of land is pointed out, was one of the factors strongly emphasized not only in the report of the Helms committee and the McKean board, but by the Alameda Base and Development committees of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

DEEP WATER IS ACCESSIBLE. Another factor which entered into the board's decision is said, is the natural deep water facilities which are available.

The navy board in its recommendation favoring Alameda, states: "The Mare Island navy yard happily situated in many respects, has a continuous front on the Pacific advantage of a location on a shallow and muddy estuary reached by a dredged channel several miles long through Point Isabel, making access difficult."

"The proposed plan to erect a supplementary establishment at the lower end of Mare Island on a very restricted site does not remove the disadvantage of the location, but it introduces a new disadvantage because the existing ships will then be two miles from the new development. But even should the ships be moved the resulting base would still be cramped and unsuitable."

The general board considers that this layout would not meet the need for a adequate base on the Pacific Coast and that expansion would be difficult and costly.

THREE OTHER SITES UNDER CONSIDERATION. "In considering the three other sites now to be utilized in the proposed layout on the Pacific coast, in each case embraces about 850 acres of land and water combined. The cost of the layout for Hunter's Point and Alameda would be practically the same. That at San Pablo Point would be considerably in excess of the others. The cost of future expansion at San Pablo Point would be almost prohibitive and that at Alameda at the same rate as in the present estimate."

It is figured that it will cost approximately $100,000,000 in the next fifty years to locate the naval base on this site with opportunity for almost unlimited expansion.

The available acreage is in the Oakland and vicinity—Tonight and Tuesday fair; moderate to fresh northerly gales, diminishing Tuesday.

PRISON BOARD FAVOR PRESENT SENTENCE LAW

Senator Ingram Will Introduce Bill for Repeal of Indeterminate Act.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEAFED WITH TRIBUNE.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—Members of the State Prison Board arrived here today and went into conference with Governor Stephens, after announcing that they were all agreed that the present indeterminate sentence law should stand, and were going to do all they knew how to keep it.

"They said they would probably issue a formal statement of their position within a few hours.

At the same time, Senator Ingram announced that he had ready, and would present, in his bill, the repeal of the indeterminate sentence law.
The law has recently come into prominence because certain persons convicted of crimes were at liberty under its operation at the time they committed the offenses later proven against them.

Assemblyman Percy West of Sacramento has two bills for presentation, one amending the acts defining habitual criminals, so that persons convicted of felony or twice convicted of misdemeanors based on fraudulent acts should be classed as habitual criminals and be subject to imprisonment for ten years. Another section provides that two previous felony convictions or four minemeanor convictions should warrant a sentence to life imprisonment under the habitual criminal statute.

Washington State Legislature Convened

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 10.—The Washington State Legislature convened here today at noon for the regular biennial session. Blue sky legislation promises to be an important feature of the session. Powerful interests from many parts of the state are demanding a drastic law to curb the wildcaters, while mining interests from the Spokane district are fighting almost any sort of blue sky legislation.

The Legislature will be asked to re-enact the prohibition laws of this state in order to conform with the federal statutes. Several plans for complete readjustment of the governmental system of the state will be considered by the Legislature.
Consolidation of city and county governments for cities of more than 50, 000 population will be asked by Seattle taxpayers.

Residence Requisite for Wedding License

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—Assemblyman Hart of Orange county announced today that, pursuant to a request made by the grand jury for his county, he would soon offer a bill providing that one of the applicants for a marriage license must establish residence in the county of application for thirty days prior to the date of issue of the license.
Hart's bill, he said, was to correct the existing practice of Los Angeles people, who go to Santa Ana and live. He said many of those married were ill-considered or hasty and wound up in the divorce courts of Los Angeles, thereby bringing the officials concerned into disrepute.

Bill Would Decide City Boundary Lines

TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRA-MENTO, Jan. 10.—A bill introduced largely by the dispute as to whether Government Island is in Oakland or Alameda was introduced in the assembly today by Homer R. Spence of Alameda. It provides for the determination of boundary lines of cities or counties where they may be questioned and makes such determination mandatory upon petition of 25 taxpayers.

It is pointed out that Government Island taxation questions are involved in the disputed boundaries and that another similar situation exists in Lassen county, where the boundaries near Susanville are in doubt.

Baker Would End the Constitutional Recess of Solons

(By Associated Press)
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—A proposed constitutional amendment to do away with the constitutional recess of the California legislature, now required by existing provisions, will be introduced in the Assembly today by Baker of Los Angeles.
Baker said his resolution would provide also that no bills could be introduced later than thirty days after the opening of each session unless a vote of three-fourths of the house permitted such introductions.
The constitutional recess, he said, was of value when it was originally adopted, but that changed conditions of life and business now made it only a re-act in waste of time for legislators and attaches.

ANTI-STRIKE BILL FINALLY TRACED

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEAFED WITH TRIBUNE.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—The "anti-strike" bill has been traced to its hiding place. Efforts of the labor lobbyists and others attendant on the legislature last week failed to find the author of the expected bill which organized labor was waiting for and preparing to pounce upon with tooth and claw. No member in either house would admit he had the bill.

Today Senator J. L. Irwin of Hanford said he was preparing to introduce such a bill, based on the Kansas industrial court law and making for compulsory arbitration of strikes.

The senator said the time had come when "something must be done" to prevent strikes and lockouts and he regards the Kansas law as "a fair to both labor and capital."
"The only thing that gives him pause," he declared, is that passage of the act as it is in force in Kansas would entail the creation of another expensive commission, when the present legislative program calls for the consolidation of state commissions that have not got a foothold in the constitution to save them from legislative interference.

Rosenshine Favors Small Claims Court

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEAFED WITH TRIBUNE.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—Assemblyman Rosenshine of San Francisco had ready for introduction his bill to provide a "small claims court" which would be in fact a division of the justice courts. The small claims would be handled by justices, but the law would provide for a cheaper and more expeditious decision of such cases than is now possible.
The small claims court would have jurisdiction in cases involving not more than $50, no fees would be charged either party, and no attorneys could appear, nor could any assigned claims be presented there, which would tend to keep collection companies out of the court.
The proper procedure for taking a claim and getting service is provided, and provisions made for enforcing judgments.

Reapportionment Committee Named

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—The south wins the first reapportionment skirmish in the assembly.
Assemblyman Pundegast, Rod-land, San Bernardino county, was named chairman of the committee.
San Francisco received four appointments to the committee—Hawes, Morrison, Rosenshine and Warren. And in this lot Rosenshine favors reapportionment.

On the committee are: Anderson, Oakland; Baker, Los Angeles; Horton, Los Angeles; Cleary, Tul-lure; Colburn, Fairbrook; Cummings, Pardue; Hawes, San Francisco; Hughes, Oroville; Hurley, Oakland; Johnston, North Sacramento; Kline, Trawley; Merriam, Long Beach; Morrison, San Francisco; Huma, Oxnard; Rosenshine, San Francisco; Smith, Santa Barbara; Warren, San Francisco; White, Glendale; Winder, Modera; Wright, South Fasaden.

The south has eleven members and many more that favor reapportionment that would be an advantage to the south and a disadvantage to the north.

Proposes Adjournment From Jan. 21 to Feb. 23

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—A resolution proposing that the legislature adjourn for the constitutional recess January 21, and reconvene February 23 for the final part of the session was presented to the Senate today by President-pro-tem, Brent of Piedmont.

STATEMENTS THAT LIBEL RACE TO BE SUBJECT OF BILLS

Questions Raised Through Ford Publication Will Lead to Legislation.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEAFED WITH TRIBUNE.
question of libel raised through the publication of the anti-semitic articles in the Dearborn Independent is to become a live and vital topic with the members of the California legislature. The first step in the new campaign to deal with persons who add to the publication of what are said to be libelous statements against races or religious sects, is to be taken by the Equal Rights through the introduction of a bill in the Assembly this week.

It is alleged that those responsible for the attacks upon the Jewish race, although under its provisions all who deal in the publication of libelous propaganda, are held liable for criminal prosecution.
Similar bills are to be introduced before the legislatures of other states.

Any action on the proposed legislation to stamp out the publishing evil in baseball is to be deferred by the Legislature until the arrival in the capital on Wednesday of this week of William H. McCarthy, who was recently expelled as president of the Pacific Coast League. McCarthy was the pioneer in a movement that has become national in its scope, to make a thorough cleanup of professional baseball. He was the first league official to dismiss a ball player who became involved in gambling corruption.

Welty Scored for Criticising Governor

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—Congressman Benjamin Welty, of Lima, O., was roundly scored on the floor of the assembly by Representative Ivan H. Parker, of Auburn, today for his letter criticizing Governor William D. Stephens and the legislature for their anti-alien stand.
"Welty's statements," that California was trying to wash his dirty laundry at the expense of the national administration, "constitute an insult to Governor William D. Stephens, the Legislature and the people of California," declared Parker.
"It shows the lengths to which this Congressman has gone to belittle as privileges has to fear from public

REACTION STILL ON, DECLARES SEN. HIRAM JOHNSON

Says Progressivism Has Not Passed; Still Cherished by Inarticulate Mass.

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Senator Hiram Johnson of California today issued a statement that "reaction is on today" and that progressivism, though perhaps momentarily forgotten, "is yet enshrined in the hearts of millions."

"I have read much lately," said Senator Johnson, "about the passing of progressivism. Progressivism has not passed. Certain progressives have. The ineffectual progressives were more interested in office than in policies have wanted their horrible past forgotten and have endeavored to atone by not regularizing regularity."

"But progressivism, though forgotten by many so-called leaders, is still cherished by the great imperious mass. It is still enshrined in the hearts of millions."

Reaction is on today, reaction against the human advance of the past quarter of a century and reaction against the political rights with such difficulty won by the people. Reaction always shows itself in attack upon the right of the electorate to choose for itself its candidates for office, and today we will meet the assault all along the line upon the direct primary. If it succeeds there is little that exploiting privileges has to fear from public officials. With the primary destroyed, officials will answer, as in former

Assembly Committees Named; Cleary Heads Irrigation

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—A jolt was handed to the assembly this morning when Assemblyman Cleary of Tulare county was appointed chairman of the irrigation committee of the assembly by Speaker Wright.

Van Bernard, Iva Lee and Mc-Pherson were looked upon by irrigationists as the prospective chairmen of the committee, which numbers 23 members and promises a tempest before the session is completed.

Cleary is a strong booster of the Marshall plan and said immediately after announcement of his appointment that he would exert every effort to secure an appropriation for the survey of that plan.

The appointment of Cleary confirmed the report that the administration would back the Marshall plan.

The chairmanship of the reapportionment committee went to Pen-dergast, San Bernardino county.

Assemblyman Pelton of San Francisco was appointed chairman of the direct legislation committee.
Other committees appointed by Speaker Wright were as follows: Agriculture, Parker, banking, days, not to all the people, but to the powerful few.

The bitter concerted movement against labor by which the splendid gains of humanity are imperiled and jeopardized, is the accomplishment of the endeavor to take from all the workers the right of nomination of their public servants. To prevent the elimination of the direct primary or the right of selection of public officials by all the men and women of the state and the destruction or modification of that which has added to the common welfare and enables common humanity to have a juster measure of life's opportunities and enjoyment, is the work of progressivism and this work will be by the rank and file without, and if necessary, in spite of progressivism's former leaders."

RADIO MAKING RAPID STRIDES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Trans-Pacific communication is taking rapid strides with the new year, with direct communication from the Philippine Islands to the Pacific coast, eliminating relays, achieved by the new radio. Installation of a new high-power plant at Cavite, with a 500-kilowatt transmission, are opened this month, permits radio stations on San Francisco Bay to copy messages from Manila, Cebu, and Manila, which heretofore had to be relayed by Guam and Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

This with development of distant control apparatus at Los Angeles, Philippines, will more than double the present capacity of trans-Pacific communication facilities, according to navy radio officers. Direct communication between the Philippines and the Pacific coast will release the relay stations in Hawaii and Guam for other intermediate stations, and will complete installation of distant control, all of the Pacific stations will be enabled to work both ways at the same time.

MY HEART and MY HUSBAND

by ADELE GARRISON

What Happened While Madge Anxiously Awaited Dicky's Return.

I ought to know Dicky well enough by this time not to be worried by his flashes of jealous temper, but there was something in the tenor of his tone to Mr. Drake and the black look he gave me as I finished my farewell to the brilliant secret service man that chilled my spirits when the two men had gone out to the car which Dicky was to drive to the station.

That I was an excellent candidate for a lunatic asylum I well knew, but I could not get out of my mind tales of jealous husbands being driven into insane asylums when the mad wife, in a ditch, seemingly by accident, supposed Dicky—

I brought myself to with a bitter grin at my melodramatic folly, and I could not help feeling cloud my attention to my guests. But when the few minutes necessary for Dicky's trip to the station and return lengthened first into an hour and then into two hours I felt that I could not all my power to listen attentively to the plans of my former principal and the woman he loved, plans whispered tremulously to me by Alice Hamilton when she had come upstairs into my room to put on her wraps.

"We shall not see each other for almost a year," she said. "Kenneth is to begin over again in a far away land, accepting the offer of a college friend who found him in his trouble, and I am to keep on here until the school year ends. We both will feel then that we have not longed for that poor dead woman of the outward appearance which as all we can pay her—and then—oh, my dear, I wish it to be so happy!"

I kissed her and assured her of the absolute rightness of her bliss, but all the time my heart was curiously overwrought. "What has become of my husband?"

I was not to receive an answer to my query that night, however. I called a taxi for Alice Hamilton, my father conducted Kenneth Stockbridge to the guest room assigned him, and I busied myself for a few moments with ostentatious indifference in arranging the chairs in my study, fashioning Lillian, evidently busy with her own thoughts, paid no attention to me for awhile, then I saw her look at me searchingly.

"Let me give you your mother-in-law's advice, Madge, she said. "Don't be so kind of an idiot just because you know how."

I flushed and stammered, but before I could answer a low knock sounded at the door leading into the hall, and when I opened it, Jim stood there, fumbling his cap, his honest face embarrassed.

"Mr. Graham said, ma'am, that after the company was gone, he was to tell you that he had been suddenly called away and that he wouldn't be back tonight."

"Thank you, Jim," I said calmly, but then I felt a stab of pain as I turned to Lillian pale-astroled door. "What does it mean?" I said wildly.

Lillian walked over to me, took me by the shoulders and shook me. "It means that you are a jealous man," she said, "and you are taking one of his jealous tantrums again—Allen Drake certainly did his level best to help him along tonight, and you didn't exactly hand Allen the broken fan, did you? And it will take him a day or two to get over it."

OVER THE PHONE. "Then you don't think—" "That Dicky has ap-prung with his hated rival over the nearest cliff," Lillian burst out. "No, I don't, and if I were you I'd either fish or cut bait. Dicky is perfectly ridiculous in his jealousy, and there was nothing out of the way in your treatment of Allen Drake tonight. But if you're going into a spasm of nervous fear every time the Dicky-bird flutters his wings in rage, you'd better turn yourself into a patient Griselda and refuse to speak to such heart-breakers as Allen Drake. If you're wise, however, you'll do neither. Just greet that husband of yours as if nothing had happened when he does deign to come home tomorrow."

BLIND PEDDLER DIES IN FIRE; 60 ARE SAVED

Helpless Man Is Forgotten When Blaze Breaks Out in Hotel

Unable because of his total blindness to find his way from the building, Edward Howard, 55, a pencil peddler, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed the Bethel hotel, a lodging house at 30, Ninth street yesterday.

Three hours of fighting were required by the fire department to bring the flames under control. For a time all of the wooden hodgepodge of buildings, which for blocks marks the site of Chinatown, was threatened.

The fire was first discovered by Patrolman Hugh O'Hara at 4 a. m. He turned in an alarm and then rushed in to notify the sleepers that the building was on fire. He banged on all of the doors and all of them responded. But he could not save the blind man who forgotten in the hurry and haste of a midnight fire was left to burn to death in his hotel room. There were 60 rooms in the hotel.

Thomas Johnson trapped in the building by the flames which had quickly enveloped the building within ten minutes after the turning in of the alarm, was forced to jump to the street from a second-story window, suffering a fractured arm.

As soon as the fire apparatus arrived, three more alarms were sent to summon additional companies to fight the fire. Police Sergeant Oscar Watson and Patrolmen O'Hara, Kelly, O'Neill and White aided the firemen in the work of fighting the fire.

How the fire started has not been determined. It started in some second story room and had gained considerable headway before the patrolman on the street saw it. The house was conducted by Joseph Zueli, who estimates his loss at something over $5000.

Toward the blind pencil peddler did not have a chance for his life. Whether or not he has any relatives, probably will never be known for although he had roomed there for sometime he was little known.

SAN FRANCISCO Jan. 10.—Mrs. Mary Flaherty died at the central emergency hospital yesterday from burns received when her clothing took fire as she was kindling a fire with coal oil at her home at 433 Arguello boulevard. She was the wife of Edward J. Flaherty, a carpenter employed by the California street railway company. She was 37 years old and is survived by her husband, a son, Harry P. Flaherty and a daughter, Mrs. J. J. Cabral, 655 Haight street.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquors or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquors. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "biliousness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain, and "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 20c.—Advertisement.

NEW BUSINESS TAX IS FAVORED BY COUNCILMEN

All Classes of Merchants to Be Affected, According to Plan Suggested.

A revival of the project for an occupational tax in Oakland, after feeling every sort of business and profession, was forecast this morning in the City Council by Commissioner Edmunds during a discussion on licensing soft drink places.

"It seems to be necessary for a license not only for soft drink places but for other places as well," said Edmunds. "I believe that Oakland is on every sort of business. We've got gas come to it, for it lowers the tax rate. The thing that is hurting Oakland is the excessive tax rate."

"I might remind you," observed Commissioner Soderberg, "that a ordinance taxing businesses was passed to print a year ago, but Com-

"I know what I said," retorted Baccus. "Mr. Edwards had written down his measure, but he insisted on forcing it to a vote and killed it."

"Is it time this city council sat up and took notice about next year's finances?" retorted Edwards. "If this proposed ordinance is passed, the tax rate of some of the largest merchants will correspondingly reduce and there will be a sum of $200,000 available in the general fund. Politically it is a bad measure, but a business move it is a fine one."

"Measures should not be judged by their expediency," said Commissioner Morne.

"They should not," regretted Edwards. "But sometimes they are."

Commissioner Baccus and Mayor Davis laughed.

"You three are running the Court all anyhow," said Baccus. "Do what you like about it."

"Yes," said the Mayor, "I'm ahead."

New Coach for St. Mary's Comes Highly Recommended

The announcement that Edward J. Plan New Form of Playing Contract for Ball Players

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—The remodeling of the National League said today, as part of the general reconstruction resulting from last fall's disastrous fire, the league will have a new form of playing contract. It is likely that a new form of playing contract will be drawn up, one that shall embody the new principles of baseball, said President Heydler.

Although The TRIBUNE Midwinter League is to develop young ball players, a number of ex-professionals can be found in the ranks of the Class-A division. These veterans are a great help in developing the younger players, as they are always ready to spill out advice to them. "Skipper" Roberts of the Coast Tire team is one of them, and he certainly is turning a lot to Johnny Gillespie and Fred Connell, a pair of young pitchers. "Skipper" alternates back of the plate with Jerry Coleman.

Honus Mitze Offers P.C.L. Bright Idea

Would Have Northern Teams Open and Close the Season Here.

By BOB SHAND

Honus Mitze, assistant manager of the Oakes, has a bright idea and one that the Coast League magnates may adopt on the part of the most weathered in the opening and closing of the season. Mitze suggests that the Oakes should open the season in the north and close it in the south. This would give the Oakes a chance to play in the best weather conditions in the country. Mitze's idea is to have the Oakes open the season in the north and close it in the south. This would give the Oakes a chance to play in the best weather conditions in the country.

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

We aren't going to ask whether you have heard about it. Everybody has. The thing we want to know is—have you been in?

Stop in for a few minutes; look around; and you'll soon know why our first sale is the talk of the town.

When men talk about a sale as they do of ours, it's a mighty sure sign that something unusual is going on.
